Novelty (N)	Claims 1-5	YES
	Claims _____	NO
Inventive step (IS)	Claims 3	YES
	Claims 1, 2, 4, 5	NO

Document 1: Microfilm of the specification and drawings annexed to the written application of Japanese Utility Model Application No. 179955/1986 (Laid-Open Utility Model No. 85113/1988), (Houzando K.K.), 3 June 1988

Document 2: JP 7-303507 A (Bitoku K.K.) 21 November 1995

The inventions of claims 1 and 2 do not appear to involve an inventive step based on document 1 (page 4, line 16 - page 5, line 16) cited in the ISR. It would be easy for a party skilled in the art to modify the accessory made by clipping off the apex of an angle formed by a first hole and a second hole drilled from two positions located symmetrically on left and right towards the center and the method of manufacturing said accessory to arrive at the inventions of claims 1 and 2.

The inventions of claims 4 and 5 do not appear to involve an invention step based on document 1 (page 4, line 16 - page 5, line 16) cited in the ISR and the document 2 (paragraph 0016) cited in the ISR. It would be easy for a party skilled in the art to adopt the technical means of inserting wires in through holes of an accessory described in document 2 to arrive at the inventions of claims 4 and 5.

None of the documents cited in the ISR describes or suggests the invention described in claim 3; nor is it obvious to a party skilled in the art.
